CHAPTER XVI.

THE LOVE OF RAMESSES.

BY the 20th of May the court of Memphis was ready to proceed to Tunis.

The next week the Pharaoh would depart. Tonight he received noble Memphis for a final revel.

His palace was aglow from its tremendous portals to the airy hypostyle upon its roof and from far reaching wing to wing with countless colored lights. From every architrave and cornice depended garlands and draperies, and tinted banners waved unseen in the dark. The great lotiform pillars supporting the porch were festooned with lotus flowers, and the approaches were strewn with palm leaves.

When the portals opened a broad shaft of light shot into the night. A multitude of attendants was seen bowing. Gusts of reedy music and babble and the smell of wilting flowers and Punish incense swept into the outer air.

Within, the great feast began and proceeded to completeness. The tables were removed and the stage of the revel was far advanced. The levels of scented vapor from the aromatic torches undulated midway between the ceiling and the floor and belted the frescoes upon the paneled walls. Far up the vaulted hall the Pharaoh and his queen, in royal isolation, were growing weary.

The company, which was large, had fallen into easy attitudes, an exciting game of draughts or a story teller or a beauty attracting groups here and there over the hall.

Before one table whereon the scattered pawns of a game yet lay Rameses lounged in a deep chair, a semi-recumbent figure in marble and obsidian. Beside him, where she had seated herself at his command, was Masanath.

There was Seti at Ta-user's side, but to was not at the feast. She mourned for Kenkenes. Ta-user was there, the bride of a week to Nechutes, who hovered about her without eye or ear for any other of the company. Siptah, Menes, Har-hat, all of the group save Hotep and Kenkenes, were present and near enough to be of the crown prince's party, yet scattered sufficiently to talk among themselves.

The game of draughts, prolonged from one to many, had ended disastrously for the prince in spite of his most gallant efforts to win. Masanath, against whom he had played, finally thrust the pawns away and refused to play further with him.

"Thou dost make sport for the Hithors, O prince," she said. "Have respect for thyself and indulge thy caprice no more."

"Hast thou not heard that we may compel the gods?" he asked. "Perhaps I do but indulge them, of a truth. But let me set mine own will against fate and there shall be no more losing for me."

"It is a precarious game. Perchance there is as strong a will as thine, compelling the Hithors contrarily to thine own desires. What, then, O Rameses?"

"By the gambling god, Toth, I shall try it!" he exclaimed. "The opportunity is before me even now."

He took her hand. "I catch thy meaning, beloved of Isis! Thou didst challenge me long ago, and long ago I took it up. Thus far have we fenced behind shields. Down with the bull hide, now, and bare the heart!"

"Thou dost forget thyself," she retorted. "I shall win thee first and woo thee afterward!"

Ta-user leaned across the table and, sweeping the pawns away with her arms, said, with a smile:

"Thou dost forget thyself," she retorted. "I shall win thee first and woo thee afterward!"

Ta-user leaned across the table and, sweeping the pawns away with her arms, said, with a smile:

Ta-user leaned across the table and, sweeping the pawns away with her arms, said, with a smile:

"Thou dost forget thyself," she retorted. "I shall win thee first and woo thee afterward!"

"Quarreling over a game of draughts! Which is it, mistress, in need of allies?"

"Come thou and be my mercenary, Ta-user," Masanath said, with impulsive gratitude. "Rameses hath lost and demands restitution beyond reason."

Har-hat had risen the instant the words had passed the prince's lips and left the group. He did not wish to let his face be seen. A dash of dark color grew in his hair's pallid cheeks, partly because he knew he had been heard, partly because he was angry at the prince's interruption.

At this point it was seen that the Pharaoh and his queen were preparing to leave the hall. All the company arose, and, after the royal pair had passed out, the guests began to depart. Rameses left his party and, joining Har-hat, led the fan bearer away from the company.

"It seems that thou, with others, hearest my words with Masanath," the prince began at once. "It is well, for it saves me further speech now. I want thy daughter as my queen."

Har-hat seemed to ponder a little before he answered. "Masanath does not love thee," he said at last.

Rameses contemplated the fan bearer narrowly for a moment. "Come; thou hast a game," he said finally. "Out with it! Name thy stake."

"When thou canst use me courteously, Rameses," he said, with dignity. "I shall talk with thee again. Meanwhile do not build on wedding with Masanath. I shall mate her with him who hath respect for her father."

"Out with it!" he insisted more calmly. "What is it—power, wealth or a wife? These three things I have to give thee. Take thy choice."

"I would have thee use me respectfully, reverently," Har-hat retorted warmly. "I would have thee speak favorably of me. I would have thee do me no injustice by deed or word nor peril my standing with the king. This I demand of thee. I will not buy it."

"I am to keep silence in the council chamber and resign to thee the molding of my plastic father. It is well, for I am not pleased with ruling before I wear the crown. But mark me! Thou shalt not advise me when I rule over Egypt. What more?"

"So thou observest these things I am satisfied."

"Gods, but thou art moderate! Masanath is worth more than that. Do I take her?"

"I shall speak with her," Har-hat responded, "and give thee her word."

For a moment the prince contemplated the fan bearer, then he turned without a word and strode out of the chamber. In a corridor near his own apartments he overtook the daughter of Har-hat. Her woman was with her.

The prince stepped before them. "The attendant crouched and fled somewhere out of sight. Masanath drew herself to the fullest of her few fancies and waited for Rameses to speak."

"Come, Masanath," he said, "thou canst reach the limit of thy power to be ungracious and but fix me the firmer in my love for thee. I am come to tell thee that I have won thee from thy father."

"Thou hast not won me from myself," she replied.

"Nay, but I shall."

"Thou dost overestimate thyself," she retorted. Catching up the fan and chaplet that her woman had let fall, she made as though to run past him. But he put himself in her way and, with shining eyes, caught her in his arms.

"Sooner would I sit upon the peak of a pyramid all my life than upon a throne with thee; sooner would I be crowned with fire than wear the asp of a queen to thee. My father may wed me to thee, but I will never love thee, nor say it, nor pretend it. Thou wilt not win a wife if thou dost take a queen by violence. Release me!"

"Thou dost rivet mine arms about thee."

She stiffened herself and savagely submitted to her imprisonment.

Rameses laughed and, bending her head back, kissed her repeatedly and with much tenderness. She struggled madly, but he held her fast.

"There! Carry thy hate of me only to the edge of sleep and dream sweetly of me."

He released her and continued down the hall.

As he turned out of the smaller passage into the larger corridor Ta-user stepped forth from the shadow of a pillar. The huge column dwarfed her into thinness. The hall was but dimly lighted by a single lamp and that flared above her head.

Rameses paused, for she stood in his path.

"Not yet gone to thy rest?" he asked.

"Rest!" she said scornfully. "Gone to a night long frenzy of relentless consciousness—wary tossing, wasted prayers. I have not rested since I left the Hithors."

Her voice sounded hollow in the great empty hall.

DEATH LIST GROWS

Earthquake in Italy Worse Than First Reported.

Rome, Sept. 11.—The effects of the earthquake were more disastrous than at first reported. Dispatches from the south give ever-increasing lists of dead and injured, the numbers now running into the thousands.

Maritano alone shows 2,200 casualties, while at Parghella the number of dead is estimated at 300 and at Lappola, 200. Many persons are still entombed in the ruins in these and other districts and touching scenes are enacted when bodies are recovered and identified by grief-stricken relatives. In some cases whole families have been wiped out.

FIGHTING IS OVER

Generals Oyama and Linévitch Arrange Preliminaries For an Armistice.

THE JAP FIRST TO ACT

Field Marshal Oyama Made Initial Approach to the Commander of Russian Forces in the Field.

He Asked That Plenipotentiaries Be Named to Arrange an Armistice.

Gadzydarli, Manchuria, Saturday, Sept. 9.—At 1 o'clock this afternoon a Japanese commissioner bearing a white flag and escorted by fifty soldiers, arrived at a post near the railway and handed to the Russian officers who went to meet him, a letter from Field Marshal Oyama to General Linévitch, congratulating him on the conclusion of peace and begging him to appoint Russian plenipotentiaries to arrange an armistice. Field Marshal Oyama appointed General Fukushima as plenipotentiary for his side, the letter announced, and he suggested Chakhedza as the meeting place.

Reporters Not Wanted.

General Oku's Headquarters in the Field, Sept. 9.—(Delayed in transmission).—General Fukushima left Kai Yuan today for the north to meet the Russian generals and arrange the details of an armistice. General Fukushima positively refused to allow press correspondents to accompany him. The correspondents are still kept thirty miles in the rear of the army, which has not yet been informed of the signing of a peace treaty. The terms of the treaty will probably prove to be unpopular, but no demonstration is feared.

WITH RUSSIAN ARMY

Interesting Scenes Following Declaration of Peace.

Gunshu Pass, Manchuria, Sept. 11.—Since news was received that the peace negotiations at Portsmouth were approaching a conclusion, your correspondent has made a survey of all the Russian positions from Mongolia to headquarters, the object in part being to ascertain the extent to which the efforts making for peace were viewed by the army. The negotiations received no official recognition in the field prior to their successful conclusion, the army remaining in a state of preparedness for a battle until the receipt by General Linévitch of a telegram from Emperor Nicholas declaring that the treaty had been signed and that his majesty accepted the conditions arrived at. This telegram was officially published in the army newspaper on Sept. 6, and the outlines of the peace conditions were printed in the same publication the day following.

The officers thereafter observed military decorum in the strictest sense, but the soldiers, with the consent of the officers, engaged in feasting and other forms of celebration. It will be a week more before the entire army is fully informed of the conclusions of peace, but the news was discounted long ago by the prevailing conviction that since the appointment of the plenipotentiaries peace was a foregone conclusion. It may be said that to the great majority of the officers and men so far informed the news that the war is at an end is most welcome.

Thousands are daily drifting to the health of President Roosevelt. The correspondent who is the only remaining foreign newspaper man with the Russian army, was everywhere asked by the men if he was an American and on being answered in the affirmative they captured him and tossed him many times in the air after the manner of the Cossacks, while their officers gently protested against the seemingly questionable form of their admiration.

Everywhere along the railway where newspapers could be obtained, the soldiers eagerly scanned the news and then expressed their joy by singing, which they continued late into the night, at intervals cheering for President Roosevelt.

With the exception of the loss of a captain and two orderlies on the east front within the past two weeks and of nine men in the center a week ago, there have been no casualties. The cessation of hostilities was preceded only by unimportant reconnaissances involving small parties of scouts. Care has been taken to prevent further loss of life.

Owing to the enormous tract of country east of Hailong Cheng, and between the Russian lines along the Vladivostok railroad and the Japanese position in the Chang Paishan range, it will require some time to reach all the elements operating in the interests of both armies and in restoring the regions occupied by both flanks to order.

Situation at New Orleans.

New Orleans, Sept. 11.—Report to 6 p.m. Sunday: New cases, 27; total 2,288; deaths, 7; total deaths, 216; new freed 11; cases under treatment, 296; discharged, 1,670.

LOOKS LIKE BOOKWALTER

Indianapolis Republicans Take Hope From the Outlook.

Indianapolis, Sept. 11.—Surface indications are more favorable to Chas. A. Bookwalter as mayor than at any time since his first nomination for mayor six years ago, when T. Taggart defeated him in a hurricane finish by a few votes, and most politicians seem to feel that if the election were held now he would defeat Mayor Holtzman, but they admit there is no telling what will happen during the sixty days intervening before the polls are opened. The sixty-day poll will give Bookwalter and his lieutenants a pretty fair idea of where they stand with the thousands of Republicans who opposed them two years ago, but it cannot be depended on as a reliable indicator as to how they will stand on election day, as there are hundreds of Republicans who are still against Bookwalter who for the sake of appearing loyal to the party will tell the poll-takers that they will support the Republican candidates. After the poll is gone over as carefully as it will be during the next sixty days and after the anti-Bookwalter men have been seen personally they will be able to tell with a fair degree of accuracy how the Republican vote will be cast. Some of Bookwalter's enthusiastic friends are shaking around now that he will get 5,000 majority. If the Republican campaign managers felt certain of 1,500 to the good they would be resting easier than they are now. There will be practically no speech-making until Oct. 1.

It is again reported that Horace Stillwell of Anderson will oppose George Cromer of Muncie, who will be a candidate for re-nomination for congress in the Eighth district next year. Congressman Elias Holliday of the Fifth district is threatened with strong opposition next year, but it is not surprising, as he has always had to fight for what he secured. This time, however, it would not be surprising if he has a closer call than ever, and there are a number of Fifth district leaders who think he won't pull through a winner. Orris E. Gulley of Danville is an active candidate and is expected to develop considerable strength, although he would have but little chance against Congressman Holliday with no other candidates in the field. But State Senator Thomas Moore of Greencastle, author of the last legislature, will probably enter the race with the solid support of his county, and it is not unlikely that Robert Catlin, Alva Higgins or some other ambitious politician at Terre Haute should like into the running. There are a number of men in the district who would like to get after Mr. Holliday if someone else would start the contest, so with Gulley and Moore on his trail they may take a hand, in which case the former's chances would be very doubtful. He is the only old soldier on the Indiana delegation.

Senator James A. Hemenway of Boonville spent Sunday in Indianapolis and was at his old headquarters at the Claypool hotel here today. He will not, however, remain throughout the week as reported today, as his time will be pretty well occupied before he completes his arrangements for leaving for Washington for the opening of congress. Senator Hemenway is rapidly extending his acquaintance among the people of the state. He was generally known throughout his section for a long time before his election to succeed Vice President Fairbanks in the senate, but the fact that he was not so generally known over the state as others who were engaged in the recent senatorial contest may be regarded as a sure indication that he was appreciated because of the splendid record he made during his ten years in the lower house. He ended his service there as chairman of the committee on appropriations, being the youngest man to reach that exalted station. It is believed that he will be appointed a member of the appropriations committee of the senate, which will be a signal honor for a first-termer. It is said that Senator Allison, who has been at the head of the appropriations committee for many years, has asked that Senator Hemenway be appointed as one of his colleagues.

Perry Newby, the well-known Knightstown politician, who returned last week from a tour of Europe, says the Hon. John K. Gowdy, consul general to Paris, will not be a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor of Indiana. Mr. Newby says that Mr. Gowdy assured him that he has no intention of becoming a candidate for any political office, and much less that of governor. He expects to leave Paris Oct. 4 with his family and to reside on his farm in Rush county when he finally settles down to business. Mr. Gowdy told Mr. Newby that he always intends to take an interest in politics and to do whatever he can for the success of his party, but he has no idea of ever asking for office. Mr. Newby says that Mr. Gowdy probably realized that during the eight years he has been away from Indiana a new crew of party leaders is at the helm and that any attempt on his part to try to displace them would be futile. This definite statement as to Mr. Gowdy's plans will probably not to rest the story that has been going the rounds for several months that he will be a candidate for governor and that possibly he and Congressman "Jim" Watson of Rushville will clash over the control of the Sixth district.

ONE GOOD EFFECT

Mr. Witte's Acquaintance With President Valuable to Manufacturers.

MOST FAVORED NATION

America Now Stands in This Class on Russia's Tariff List by Order of the Czar.

Levying of Extra Duties on American Products Will Now Be Discontinued.

Oyster Bay, L. I., Sept. 11.—At a conference Saturday night between President Roosevelt and the Russian peace envoys, Mr. Witte, by direction of the emperor of Russia, presented the following communication: "Some years ago, in consequence of misunderstanding in the interpretation of the most favored nation clause, there were established in Russia on several articles of American production customs duties on a higher scale than those levied on the same articles when imported from other countries."

"His majesty, the emperor of Russia, has commanded me to inform the president of the United States that he has been pleased to order the discontinuance of the levying of such higher duties on American products in order that henceforth the American manufacturers should pay the same duties as importers from other countries."

May Delay Departure.

New York, Sept. 11.—Baron Komura is ill in his apartments at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, and all the social engagements of the Japanese envoys are either cancelled or indefinitely postponed. The senior envoy of the Japanese emperor is suffering from intestinal trouble. While the illness is not regarded as serious, Baron Komura has been told he must rest for a few days. The Japanese had planned to leave New York next Thursday for Seattle, Wash., whence they will sail direct for home.

Envoys Visit Washington.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Mr. Witte and Baron Rosen, the Russian peace plenipotentiaries, accompanied by five members of the former's suite, spent Sunday in Washington. They arrived here at an early hour in the morning and spent the entire day visiting the historic points in and about the city, and left again late in the afternoon for New York, from which place Mr. Witte will sail for Hamburg tomorrow.

CLEARING THE ATMOSPHERE

Unpopular Officials in Tokio Have Resigned Their Positions.

Tokio, Sept. 11.—Tsunayoshi Adachi, chief of the metropolitan police, has resigned. It is believed that Viscount Yoshitawa, minister of home affairs, has tendered his resignation, which it is thought will be accepted. The resignations of the above named officials is the result of a week of turmoil. Yoshitawa and Adachi attracted most of the popular dissatisfaction on account of the closing of Hibiya park to public meetings. The suspensions against the newspapers Nippon, Jumin, Yoruichi, Niroku and the Miyako have been withdrawn and they all have resumed publication. The Asahi and Nippon, published at Osaka, and the Keisemon, published at Shimonoseki, have been suspended. Tokio continues to be quiet.

A Sticking-Up Promised.

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 11.—The special term of federal court held at Greensboro, to investigate the charges of fraud on the part of the revenue officers and distillers, has returned twenty-eight indictments. The charges include bribery, forgery, perjury, false oaths and other crimes, and false expense vouchers. Several of the collectors indicted are prominent in political circles. Against Collector R. H. Harlan there are forty-nine counts, embracing violation of nearly all the revenue regulations.

Sanctimonious Proposition.

Lancaster, Pa., Sept. 11.—The bondsmen of Elder F. Obenchain, Cass county, Pa., defaulting treasurer, have made a proposition to the county commissioners to settle on the basis of 50 cents on the dollar and to surrender the balance of his assets, allowing the county to realize what it could from them. Two of the commissioners have declined the offer rather than a lawsuit to collect the entire amount, but the third commissioner refuses to concur.

Vice President at Home.

Philadelphia, Sept. 11.—Vice President Fairbanks, who delivered an address Saturday in Westchester at the celebration of the semi-centennial anniversary of the birth of the Republican party in Chester county, left for Indianapolis Sunday, accompanied by his wife.

Astasia Sentenced.

Moscow, Sept. 11.—Kolchovskiy, who on August 1 was sentenced to Major General Count Shuyaylov has been sentenced to imprisonment for life.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 11.—Final arrangements have been made to reopen the Western National bank of Louisville on Oct. 1, probably under a new name. ## THE CARNIVAL.

The Woodmen Log Rolling, the Foresters Encampment and the Carnival are over and every one seems glad of it. The meeting of the Log Rolling Association was conceded by all the delegates from over the state as the best ever held in Indiana. Head Consul Talbot, who was here on Tuesday said it was the best state meeting of Woodmen he had ever attended and complimented the local Camp and the committee in charge for their splendid management.

The Encampment was far ahead of former meetings of Foresters in Indiana and the several companies present spoke in the kindest sort of terms of their treatment while here. They had the best camp ground they ever enjoyed and the management of the drill contest satisfied all of them and brought forth many words of commendation.

The carnival, the object of which was to supply entertainment for the people during the week, was a success as the success of all carnivals are measured. Every one of the carnival attractions was clean and this much could not be said of all the attractions of former carnivals given in this city. Unclean shows, or even those of a suspicious character, were refused space at any price. The committee labored long and unselfishly for the success of the week and deserve much credit for their untiring work which has lasted through many weeks.

But now that this carnival is over, and it was the best ever given here, the REPUBLICAN believes it voices the sentiment of the community generally, when it says Seymour has had all the carnivals she needs. Certainly the men who have served on the committees of this last one or any of the former carnivals or street fairs do not want another one. All have had enough. In fact it will not be long until nearly all cities will seek to do something entirely different to entertain the people. Let Seymour be the most progressive and be the first to originate something new.

It is said that President Roosevelt will meet with a great reception when he returns to Washington. His recent achievement in behalf of peace suggests this and everybody will say that this sort of recognition is proper. One very satisfactory thought about it is that the demonstration, whatever it may be, will be genuine and certainly there can be little personal gain to any one. On the other hand if a general expression is given to what every one must really feel at the thought of this achievement, then every one will feel the better for the experience.

Ed Norton, of Columbus, spent Sunday here.

John Northcott, of Brownstown, was in the city this morning.

Joe McClellan and son Robert, of Indianapolis, spent Sunday here.

SCHOOLS OPEN.

Good Attendance at First Day of Term.

The city schools were opened this morning in the usual way and with a well planned course of study for the ensuing year. Great improvement is shown in the standard of work set before the pupils this year and to those willing to take advantage of the opportunity offered them there is a field wherein much can be accomplished.

The enrollment today is fair and will be noticeably increased before the close of the week. 125 pupils are enrolled in High school and 416 in the Shields building, 144 at Park school, 174 at the Laurel street school, 105 at the Third Ward and 21 at the Lynn street school, making a total enrollment of 890.

The work today was merely to get the pupils located in the right grades and assign their studies. Several days must necessarily be spent in preliminary arrangements after which time work in earnest will commence and continue for the coming nine months.

Pleas Of Guilty.

As a result of the evidence secured the latter part of last week by three ministers of our city fifteen saloon men have entered pleas of guilty before Mayor Graessle and paid their fines for law violations. Several were for permitting gambling in their places and others were for being open after 11 o'clock at night. All these offenses were committed last week. The fine and costs in each case amounted to $20.50. Though there were no trials and therefore no witnesses testified it is said that the evidence available was positive in each case.

Sunday from their pulpits the pastors of the Presbyterian, German Methodist and Baptist churches spoke publicly of their personal observations on their round made Thursday night and again on Friday. They spoke plainly and positively of what they saw and made a strong plea for obedience to law and for law enforcement, urging all citizens to uphold the hands of the officers in all their efforts to secure obedience to all laws. Each of the ministers was given a good hearing and what they said has been quite generally commended.

MARRIED

CAMPBELL-TRUELOCK.
The marriage of Miss Bertha True-lock to Mr. Otto Campbell took place at the Christian church Sunday evening September 10 at 8:30. The ceremony was beautiful and impressive being performed under a canopy of ferns and smilax by Rev. Harley Jackson. The bride party entered to the strain of Mendelssohn's Wedding March played by Miss Alice Marshall, in which Mrs. Fred Klippel of Jackson, Michigan led the way as Matron of Honor, followed by the two little flower girls, Zola Campbell, sister of the groom, and Mary Jackson, daughter of Rev. Jackson. The bride and groom were attended by Miss Anna Carter and Mr. John Kerr both of this city as bride's maid and groom's man. After the ceremony an excellent supper was served to a large number of friends at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary Truelock on East Second street.

The bride is one of Seymour's most popular young ladies and has a large circle of friends who are the hearty well wishers of the newly married couple. The groom is an express messenger on the E. & T. H. between Evansville and Terre Haute, and is well known here where he was employed a short time ago as baggage man at the B. & O. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell left this morning for Cincinnati for a few days visit after which they go to their future home in Evansville where they will be glad to see and entertain their friends.

A CASE OF IT.

Many More Like It In Seymour.

The following case is but one of many similar occurring daily in Seymour. It is an easy matter to verify its correctness. Surely you cannot ask for better proof than such a conclusive evidence.

Mrs. Jesse Buckles of Indianapolis avenue, says:—"In the spring of 1899 I suffered severely from backache and procured Doan's Kidney Pills at C. W. Milhous' drug store. I had dull aching and acute lameness in my loins which inconvenienced me when rising from a chair or at attempting to lift anything. The kidney secretions were embarrassing and I was troubled with nervousness and attacks of dizziness. Doan's Kidney Pills promptly relieved me. They were quick to invigorate my kidneys and strengthen my back. After taking the treatment my general health was better than for a long time."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States.

BAD BLOOD

INVITES DISEASE

The blood supplies nourishment and strength to every part of the body when it is rich, pure and healthy. When from any cause it becomes diseased or weak it cannot supply the nutrient the system needs, and the body is unable to resist the diseases and troubles that are constantly assailing it to break down the health.

I have used S. S. S. and found it to be an excellent blood purifier and tonic. My blood was weak and impure, and as a result my system became very much run down and debilitated. I lost twenty or more pounds in weight, had no appetite and was in bad shape. Seeing S. S. S. advertised I began its use, and am well pleased with the results after using it for some little while. My system and general health have been wonderfully built up, and I no longer hesitate to give S. S. S. the credit for it. H. MARTIN, Warren, O., 60 Second St.

Rheumatism, Skin Diseases, Scrofula, Catarrh, Old Sores, Malaria, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., are the results of bad or diseased blood, and until this vital fluid is cleansed and made pure, strong and healthy, these diseases will continue. The greatest of all blood purifiers and tonics is S. S. S. It has been curing all diseases of the blood for more than forty years by going down to the very root of the trouble, forcing out all poisons and impurities and building up every part of the system by its fine tonic effect. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Skin Diseases, Scrofula, Catarrh, Old Sores, Malaria, Contagious Blood Poison and all other blood troubles, and cures them permanently. S. S. S. is the acknowledged king of blood purifiers and the greatest of all tonics. Books on the different diseases, and any medical advice you may wish will be given without charge.

DIED.

GAHL.—Miss Mattie Gahl, aged thirty-three years and twenty days, died Saturday evening at 6 o'clock at the home of her mother Mrs. Mary Gahl on Mill street after a lingering illness of lung trouble. The funeral services were conducted at the residence at 2 o'clock this afternoon by Rev. Harley Jackson. Burial at Riverview.

Incredible Brutality.

It would have been incredible brutality if Chas. F. Lemberger, of Syracuse N. Y., had not done the best he could for his suffering son. "My boy," he says, "but a fearful gash over his eye so I applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve which quickly healed it and saved his eye." Good for burns and scalds too. Only 25c at W. F. Peter Drug Co.

TRAIN AND TRACK.

Few Russian trains travel at a faster rate than twenty-two miles an hour.

Alkmar, Netherlands, is to have a steam tramway, to be built by the Noorder Stoomtramwegmaatschappij.

Thomas Greenway, a former premier of Manitoba, estimates that within the next few years more than $75,000,000 will be spent in western Canada in the construction of railways.

The famous Jungfrau railway in Switzerland is making steady progress. The railway has already been completed up to a height of 10,246 feet. Trains are now running up the mountain as far as the Elgerwood station.

The state railroads of Belgium have instituted a system of railroad hospitals. Each car in the service contains eight movable cots, a dispensary and an operating room. The cars are being distributed at convenient points of the system.

CHURCH AND CLERGY.

Congregationalism carries on religious services in fourteen languages in New York city.

The Methodist Episcopal church has revised its hymnal in co-operation with the southern church, and the new book is to be issued this fall. It contains besides the hymns the ritual.

Rev. Wallace Radcliffe, pastor of the New York Avenue Presbyterian church, Washington, is one of the most popular ministers in that city and takes an active interest in all municipal affairs.

Dean Lefroy, speaking at Norwich, England, the other day, said he yielded to no man in his loyalty to the Book of Common Prayer, but it was not always adapted to the people. It was too stately.

An Animal Story For Little Folks

Too Fond of Notoriety

There were two little ostriches living on the border of a desert who had become possessed of a great fondness for being among the notables. They wanted people to feel that they moved in the best society. They longed to be seen in company with the celebrated Mr. So-and-so. They always took great pleasure in saying to their friends, "My friend, Mr. Biggest-in-the-Bunch, and I ate gravel together yesterday," or "When I dined with Mrs. Head-in-the-Sand at Castle Cranky-Crow." Every new ostrich on the desert was soon aware that they were sizing him up. Their good parents had warned them of their folly, saying no good would come of it, but they were set in their pride and refused instruction.

One day while walking out for the air they saw coming toward them a new figure in the desert. It was an ostrich of enormous size. He had peculiar feet and legs and carried his head very stiffly.

"It must be General Nincompoop," said the ostrich.

"Or Major Stuck-in-the-mud," said the other.

"At any rate," said both together, "we can't afford to miss his acquaintance." The figure stood holding its head, and they both advanced toward him.

But when they came close by they grew suspicious, for out from the feathers there came a great black face and two large black hands.

Terrified, they started to run, but it was too late, for behind a tree was an ostrich hunter with a lasso, who soon had them both in his power.

Love of notoriety was their ruin.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

"STARVING AND DYING"

The Situation in the Caucasus Is Well Nigh Desperate.

Tiflis, Sept. 11.—The governor of Baku reports that firing continued Saturday night and Sunday, though on a smaller scale, and that few were killed or wounded. The troops and police, he says, are still engaged in preventing incendiarism and pillaging. The director of the Technological Institute at Baku telegraphs saying, "We are starving and dying," and imploring the dispatch of necessities.

The worst news comes from the Zangezur district, where it is reported that many Armenian villages were wiped out and hundreds of persons killed. Help is slow in reaching there owing to the distance from the military centers. The whole of the Tartar population has risen and has been joined by 4,000 armed Kurds from the Persian bank of the Alas river. The viceroy has protested to the Persian authorities.

General Shirinkin has ordered the governor of Elizabetopol to investigate the truth of the accusations against some of the Tartar police commissaries that they are co-operating with the insurgents.

It is reported that the Armenians and Tartars in Shusha have become reconciled, that the population has been disarmed and that the foreign residents have returned to their homes. General Takalschwil telegraphs that the disorders are ceasing.

Situation Steadily Improving.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 11.—M. Pappke, the St. Petersburg representative of the Baku bourse, says that the situation at Baku continues to show a distinct improvement. Telegrams received by M. Pappke from the oil men report the steady arrival of troops, and the worst is believed to be over. Later reports show that in addition to the refineries in the "Blacktown" district, about 30 per cent of the oil property in the well district escaped.

Powder Mill Lets Go.

Connellsville, Pa., Sept. 11.—The Rand Powder mills at Fairchance, six miles south of Uniontown, were entirely wiped out by an explosion. Nineteen workmen are known to be dead. Scores of people in the town of Fairchance, within a half mile of the powder mills, were more or less painfully injured.

Because his sixteen-year-old sweetheart persisted in her refusal to marry him, Lee Weddle, seventeen years old, is dead by his own hand at Frederick, Md., and the sweetheart, Nellie Eichelberger, is suffering from two pistol shot wounds that may prove fatal.

Startling Mortality.

Statistics show startling mortality, from appendicitis and peritonitis. To prevent and cure these awful diseases, there is just one reliable remedy, Dr. King's New Life Pills. M. Flannery, of 14 Custom House Place, Chicago, says: "They have no equal for constipation and biliousness." 25c at W. F. Peter Drug Co.

Great Grief and Head Shaving.

Among the ancient shaving the head was a very common mode of expressing great grief or sorrow. Sometimes it was done by the priest or some other religious functionary formally cutting off the hair, sometimes by violently plucking it out by the roots. In extreme cases among men the beard as well as the hair was either cut off or plucked out. The idea seems to have been that mourners should divest themselves of that which under ordinary circumstances was considered most beautiful, ornamental and becoming. Lucian—and he is not the only one of the ancient writers by any means who gives points on this queer mourning custom—says that the Egyptians expressed their intense sorrow by cutting off the hair upon the death of their god Apis and that the Syrians acted in the same manner at the death of Adonis.

Olympiodorus remarks concerning Job i, 23, that the ancients, among whom long hair was regarded as an ornament, cut it off in times of mourning, but that those who commonly wore it short suffered it upon such occasions to grow long.

Irish Surnames.

There is a magnificent sonority in the names of MacGillanaholmoge, MacGulshennan, MacO'agherty, O'Dooyama, O'Hovley, O'Quigley, O'Mulcloy and O'Mulmoghery. Many of the names are extinct, but a large proportion are still in evidence, and, what is more, in nearly every case the families bearing them are to be found in the same localities formerly inhabited by them. Dolbertys in Donegal, Driscolls in Cork, Macdermotts in Connaught, Meaghers in Tipperary and O'Sullivan in Cork and Kerry. It is a notorious fact that many of the families which have come to be regarded as typically Irish are of alien extraction. Thus the Pinketts are of Danish origin, the Burkes, Dillons, Roches, Husseys and all the tribe of Fitz are Anglo-Norman, while the Mitchells are English.—London Spectator.

A Tooth.

A tooth is a living structure. Inside of each tooth is a cavity filled with pulp, which gives it life. Nerves and blood vessels connect this pulp with the general system and circulation of the body. The ivory surrounding the pulp is covered over by a surface of enamel. Both ivory and enamel are harder than any other bones, because they contain a greater quantity of bone earth. Enamel on the tops of the teeth is one-sixteenth of an inch thick. It consists of little six-sided prisms placed side by side and held together by an exquisitely fine cement. The pulp of the tooth becomes diseased and toothache follows. Tartar is a secretion made by three glands in the mouth, full of small, living organisms, which assimilate matter in the saliva and deposit it on the teeth in the shape of phosphate of lime.

Living Mummies.

Living mummies exist in Tibet, near Gyantse, at a spot the name of which in English may be rendered as "The Cave of Happy Misery." There are about twenty small caves in the solid rock, each built up in front with stones and mortar. They have padlocked doors, tiny drains and small holes just sufficient for a man to pass his hand through. In these cells men are buried for life with the idea of thus "attaining merit." Once interned they are, in extreme cases, never seen again by mortal eye. Even the hand which they stretch forth from the small hole for their daily dole of food is covered by a glove. They speak to no one and no one speaks to them. Even their death is only made known when they fail for several days to stretch out the hand for food.

Persian Way of Eating Watermelon.

"The ordinary Persian bill of fare sounds something like the banquet described in fairy tales," said a man who has spent some time in the orient. "While traveling in that country I found that the best overtone to a way-side repast is a watermelon, not cut in slices, as is done in this country, but eaten like an egg, one end being cut off and the contents eaten with a wooden spoon, the rosate fluid trickling all the time to the bottom and affording a fragrant drink when the first course is over."

The Potato.

The potato is one of the most valuable plants we have. Besides being one of the most necessary articles of food, it has a variety of other uses. A great quantity of the starch used in our laundries is made from it, and after the starch has all been separated from the pulp what is left is used in the manufacture of boxes. From the stems and leaves of the plant a fluid that produces sleep is made. In many places bread, cake and puddings are made of potato flour.

Woman's Kidney Troubles

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is Especially Successful in Curing This Fatal Disease.

Mrs. J. W. Lang and Mrs. S. Frake

Of all the diseases known, with which women are afflicted, kidney disease is the most fatal. In fact, unless early and correct treatment is applied, the weary patient seldom survives.

Being fully aware of this, Mrs. Pinkham, early in her career, gave exhaustive study to the subject, and in producing her great remedy for woman's ills—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—was careful to see that it contained the correct combination of herbs which was sure to control that fatal disease, woman's kidney troubles. The Vegetable Compound acts in harmony with the laws that govern the entire female system, and while there are many so called remedies for kidney troubles, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the only one especially prepared for women, and thousands have been cured of serious kidney derangements by it. Derangements of the feminine organs quickly affect the kidneys, and when a woman has such symptoms as pain or weight in the loins, backache, bearing down pains, urine too frequent, scanty or high colored, producing scalding or burning, or deposits like brick dust in it; unusual thirst, swelling of hands and feet, swelling under the eyes or sharp pains in the back running down the inside of her groin, she may be sure her kidneys are affected and should lose no time in combating the disease with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the woman's remedy for woman's ills.

The following letters show how marvelously successful it is.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; a Woman's Remedy for Woman's Ills.

Mrs. Samuel Frake, of Prospect Plains, N. J., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— I cannot thank you enough for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. When I first wrote to you I had suffered for years with what the doctor called kidney trouble and congestion of the womb. My back ached dreadfully all the time, and I suffered so with that bearing down feeling I could hardly walk across the room. I did not get any better, so decided to stop doctoring with my physician and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am thankful to say it has entirely cured me. I do all my own work, have no more backache and all the bad symptoms have disappeared. I cannot praise your medicine enough, and would advise all women suffering with kidney trouble to try it.

Mrs. J. W. Lang, of 626 Third Avenue, New York, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— I have been a great sufferer with kidney trouble. My back ached all the time and I was discouraged. I heard that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would cure kidney disease, and I began to take it; and it has cured me when everything else had failed. I have recommended it to lots of people and they all praise it very highly.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation.

Women suffering from kidney trouble, or any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Out of the great volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than likely she has the very knowledge that will help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.

Delineator for October.
From the artistic viewpoint, as well as that of fashion, the October Delineator surpasses even the high standard it has previously attained. Many pages are given to the styles of the month, twenty pages in color being a noteworthy departure, additional space being devoted to the New York and Paris fashions, and the literary side, household topics and special features are on an unusual plan of excellence. Of widespread interest to parents, teachers and all who lead or follow in educational lines is an exceptional article, "Education for Life through Living," by William H. Maxwell, Superintendent of New York City schools.

$100 REWARD $100
The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address,

THE OFFICIAL REPORT

Government Printing Office Row Now
Made Public.

Oyster Bay, L. I., Sept. 11.—President Roosevelt has made public the report of the Keop commission on its recent investigation of affairs in the government printing office at Washington. The inquiry was made by special direction of the president on account of a protest which he had received from officials of the Mergenthaler Typesetting Machine company against the award of a contract by Public Printer Frank W. Palmer to the Lanston Monotype company for seventy-two machines of its make.

By order of the president the contract with the Lanston company was held up until an investigation could be made with the view of ascertaining if these charges of favoritism and corruption in the letting of the contract were substantially founded.

The president decided, after an examination of the Keop report, that the contract for the Lanston machines should stand. The Keop commission reported that "if the contract could be set aside, such a course would be desirable," although the commission states expressly that "no corruption, payment or promise passed from the Lanston Monotype company to the public printer or to any person in the government service."

It was developed by the investigation, however, that two important assistants of the public printer were indirectly interested in the Lanston company, "their wives being stockholders therein." The commission shows that a fair and impartial test of the Lanston and Mergenthaler machines was not made and reports that the purchase of so large a number of Lanston machines was "improvident" and indicated "great partiality and bias on the part of the public printer." The commission regards the purchase as "maladministration."

The report of the commission is voluminous, containing about 16,000 words. Accompanying it is a memorandum by President Roosevelt, in which he approves the report, except as to the disposition of the contract for the Lanston machines, which he has directed shall stand.

Healthy Mothers.
Mothers should always keep in good bodily health. They owe it to their children. Yet it is no unusual sight to see a mother, with babe in arms, coughing violently and exhibiting all the symptoms of a consumptive tendency. And why should this dangerous condition exist, dangerous alike
to mother and child, when Dr.
Boschee's German Syrup would put a stop to it at once? No mother should be without this old and tried remedy in the house—for its timely use will promptly cure any lung, throat or bronchial trouble in herself or her children. The worst cough or cold can be speedily cured by German Syrup; so can hoarseness and congestion of the bronchial tubes. It makes expectoration easy, and gives instant relief and refreshing rest of the cough racked consumptive. New bottle, 25c; large size, 75c. For smoking cigarettes, were fined $35

them. Mr. Dausman was a member of the legislature which passed the anti-cigarette law. Since the arrest of Gilbert and Blue and the subse-at the Daniel Boone coal mines on the duced, they struck and the mines

been unorganized for years and all attempts to unionize them have failed. It is said several national organizers will be sent into the field.

made many hearts well after they have been pronounced hopeless. It has completely cured thousands, and will almost invariably cure or benefit every case of heart disease.

Short breath, pain around heart, palpitation, fluttering,
dizzy, fainting and smothering spells should not be neglected.
Take Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and see how quick you will be relieved.

It cannot make a new heart, but will restore a sick one by strengthening the heart nerves and muscles, relieving the unnatural strain, and restoring its vitality.

"I had a very bad case of heart trouble. For six months I could not work. Last July I was plowing corn and feeling all day in the afternoon in plowing one row I had to lay down, or fall down three times. My heart throbbed as though it would burst through, and I had difficulty in getting my breath. I purchased a bottle of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, and before I had used half of it I could lay down and sleep all night. Previously I had to get up from five to times a night. I have taken several bottles, and my heart is as regular as clock work. I feel like a new man, and can work comfortably for an old man, 84½ years old."
H. D. Zwick, Freet, Ohio.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails
he will refund your money.

ON THE CROSSING

Three Victims of Trolley Car
Were Caught in a Buggy.

NOTHING BUT SPLINTERS

Vehicle Was Reduced to Bits While the Bodies of the Victims Were Sadly Mangled.

Aged Farmer and His Son and the Latter's Wife Were Caught
by the Car.

Indianapolis, Sept. 11.—Struck by an inbound trolley car on the Northwestern streetcar line Saturday afternoon, William Jackson, aged seventy, his son William, aged thirty-five, and Clara, the latter's wife, aged thirty, were instantly killed.
The accident occurred at stop No. 8,
a mile and a quarter north of Augusta. So great was the force of the collision between the car and the buggy occupied by the ill-fated trio that nothing but splinters was left of the conveyance and the bodies of the victims were thrown high in the air and fell in a mangled heap fully thirty yards from the track. The members of the Jackson family who live near Augusta, had been spending the day fishing at Eagle creek and were returning home.

KILLED WIFE AND SELF

Shocking Crime of Aged Montgomery County Farmer.

Crawfordsville, Ind., Sept. 11.—
Godfrey Guntle, one of the most prominent citizens of this county, seventy years old, shot and killed his wife, sixty years old, at their country home near Whitesville, six miles south of this city, Saturday afternoon, and shortly after fired a bullet into his own brain.

Mrs. Guntle was the third wife of Guntle, and it is alleged that their married life was not as harmonious as it might have been. They had kept their troubles to themselves, however, and it was only known to the relatives that their life together was unhappy.

It seems that Guntle and his wife renewed an old quarrel and in an attempt to escape from her husband Mrs. Guntle ran out of the house and across the road, starting to the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Davidson, who lives a short distance from the Guntle home. Just as she was climbing the fence on the opposite side of the road, Guntle fired the bullet taking effect in her back and passing through to the heart, killing her instantly. After calling the attention of a neighbor to his wife's condition and coolly talking of his crime, Guntle returned to his own home and put a bullet through his brain.

Guntle has been in poor health for a number of years and has been suffering from cancer. It is thought that this preyed upon his mind in connection with his domestic troubles until he became mentally deranged.
He was comfortably fixed financially,
owning his own farm.

Put Crackmen to Rout.

Atmura, Ind., Sept. 11.—A bold attempt was made to loot the bank of
O. H. Taylor at Hamilton, Ind., about 3 o'clock in the morning. At that hour a terrific explosion shook the town and aroused many citizens of the place, who ventured forth in the darkness to find that the bank building had been broken into and the outer doors of the large safe torn from their hinges by the charge of nitroglycerin. Three armed men succeeded in holding away the first arrivals, but as the alarm spread and the crowd of citizens gathered the robbers made a retreat and eluded their followers in a conveyance which they had stolen from Dr. Gibbs. They were followed by a posse as far as Butler, where the horse and buggy were found, but all further trace was lost.

ciety young men, who were caught

G. B. Burhans of Carlisle Center, N. Y., writes:
"About four years ago I wrote you stating that I had been entirely cured of a severe kidney trouble by taking less than two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure. It entirely stopped the brick-dust sediment and pain and symptoms of kidney disease disappeared. I am glad to say that I have never had a return of any of those symptoms during the four years that have elapsed, and I am evidently cured to stay cured, and heartily recommend Foley's Kidney Cure to any one suffering from kidney or bladder trouble."

SEEING AMERICA.

Wonderful Scenic Trip Across Rocky Mountains to Oregon Exposition.

In certain respects the excursions to the Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition, Portland, Oregon, via Pennsylvania Lines, beginning May 28 and continuing through the summer, offer advantages never before presented to Exposition visitors. The trip to the Oregon Exposition, in addition to the attractiveness of the extensive exhibits, includes the journey through the scenic wonderland of the Rocky Mountains and the Cascade Range, and what American has not looked forward from the days of the geography class in school to the time when these great sights should be seen in reality? The trip was never so favorable as now. The trip may be made less expensive than ever. For only a slight difference in fare tourists may extend their trip to San Francisco and Los Angeles.
The return trip may be made over a different route, enabling travelers to view much more of the west. For full particulars, fares, dates of special excursions to Portland on account of conventions, through time and passenger service apply to ticket agent of Pennsylvania
